LIFE ON MAUI

Accidental Fire Causes Death of an Aged Chinese.

JAP LABORERS MAKE TROUBLE

Plotting Against Lunas - Disturbance Promptly Stopped-Debate on Protection-Social Notes.

MAUI, Jan. 14, 1899.—Last evening, the 13th, the monthly discussion under the auspices of the Makawao Debating Society was held in the parlors of the Pala Foreign Church and was largely attended by the district people. The subject of debate was "Free Trade vs. Protection." Messrs. F. E. Atwater and W. E. Nicoll defending the former and Messrs. J. J. Hair and Frank Alexander, the latter. Several speakers other than the leaders made the evening unusually interesting. Advocates of protection "carried the day" when it came to vote on the merits of arguments presented, the vote being a close one. The subject for next meeting is something about the reduction of personal taxes, with Tax Assessor C. H. Dickey the leader of the negative.

Wednesday, the 11th, a Chinese of Waihee named Aliona was so severely burned that he died a few hours after the fire which injured him was discovered and extinguished. He lived in a shanty by himself and being very old and blind was cared for by a married daughter who lived near by. The fire was started probably from his pipe while he was smoking. The inside of the dwelling was badly burned. The coroner's inquest was held yesterday and brought in a verdict of death by accident.

Wednesday morning, the 11th, there was some trouble between the lunas and seventy or eighty laborers on Waihee plantation. The Japs, being angry with one of the lunas made a plan to "down" him, but head luna Jack Dow and other lunas interfered in time to prevent any serious happening, though there was an interchange of blows. Thirty or forty of the Japanese were fined on the 13th by Judge McKay for deserting labor and four or five of their leaders are still in confinement awaiting trial for assault upon Mr. Dow.

To-night, the 14th, some dozen or more young men of Waihee will hold a meeting in the Club Hall to organize an athletic club. Their plans are to begin with bicycles and later to extend the functions of the association to general athletics and perhaps some time in the dim future to build a hall.

The afternoon of the 9th, twenty persons attended the monthly meeting of teachers in Makawao school house. The program consisted of discussion of "Parker's Talks," by Miss Nellie Smith, "Hawaiian Soils," by D. D. Baldwin, and "Sewing," by Miss Eliza dos Reis. Mr. Baldwin's talk was especially interesting and valuable. He advanced the theory that it is not "weathering" but the growth of vegetation (the breaking up of the lava into pieces by roots) that changes lava rock to soil.

The 13th, the Hana teachers held their monthly meeting in Hana school house. The maximum attendance of Hana pedagogues is eight.

The evening of the 27th, a "Conundrum Supper" will be given in Dickey's Hall, Pala, under the patronage of the Ladies' Aid Society of Pala.

Mrs. D. B. Murdoch of Ewa is visiting her mother, Mrs. D. D. Baldwin of Haiku.

This afternoon in Pala Plantation Office a meeting of stockholders of the Maui Telephone Co. will be held.

At Kahului the only arrival of the week is the brig "Lurline," McLeod master, on the 11th, from San Francisco, with general merchandise for H. C. Co., Haiku, Pala and Alexander & Baldwin companies. The only departure is the bark "Hesper" for Port Townsend in ballast.

Weather:—Dry—cool mornings and warm, still days. No rain for a week at Nahiku.

Full Moon in Distress.

Full Moon is the name of a Pake Kamaaina who has a duck ranch and accessories on the Waikiki road, near the Hopkins' switch. Mrs. Full Moon came to the police station yesterday forenoon with the news that her husband was about to commit suicide. Deputy Marshal Chillingworth went out to investigate. Full Moon had taken a dose of calomel and said he wanted to die. His tale of woe was that he had been "cleaned out" by a pair of faithless partners. The man was brought into the police station and is there yet. He failed to develop any alarming symptoms.
